* The list should include just the generic brand name(s) over which the Company has control and/or ownership and not all product names.

Manufacturers who manufacture products for brands that are owned and managed by separate, independent marketers should not include these brands in the list.

In this respect, for lubricants marketed under the aforementioned brands, that it develops and/or manufactures, The Company undertakes to:

- apply the EELQMS guidelines, and the guidelines of the ATIEL Code of Practice, to develop and manufacture those engine lubricants for which compliance with ACEA Oil Sequences requirements will be claimed;
- inform its auditors of its agreement to implement the EELQMS;
- ensure that its ISO 9001 or equivalent procedures include conformance with the ATIEL Code of Practice and to identify these procedures to ISO 9001 (or equivalent) auditors;
- provide such auditors with the relevant copy(ies) of the ATIEL Code of Practice;
- in case the development process, or parts thereof, are conducted by a third party, require that this third party will apply the EELQMS guidelines, and the guidelines of the ATIEL Code of Practice, to ensure the independent audit of the development process;
- in case the lubricants are manufactured by a third party, require and ensure that this third party complies with the quality requirements for blending included in the ATIEL Code of Practice.

For lubricants that are developed and manufactured by third parties for marketing under its own aforementioned brand(s), The Company remains solely responsible for compliance defined in this letter. In this respect the company undertakes to:

- require and ensure that the third parties that are involved in the development process or parts thereof do apply the EELQMS guidelines and the guidelines of the ATIEL Code of Practice, and preferably have signed the lubricant marketers' Letter of Conformance themselves.
- require and ensure that the third parties that are involved in manufacturing or blending processes comply with the quality requirements for blending included in the ATIEL Code of Practice.

The commitments referred to in this letter will be valid until the expiry date published on the ATIEL website www.atiel.org. The Company is entitled to withdraw from its EELQMS commitments at any time prior to that date, by registered letter to ATIEL. Renewal of the participation in the EELQMS is possible for subsequent periods of two years. A renewal shall be notified in writing to ATIEL, on the basis of the standard Letter of Conformance applicable at that time.

The Company mandates ATIEL to:

- include its company name in the ATIEL List of Participants in the EELQMS which will be made available by ATIEL to any interested party and published on the ATIEL website www.atiel.org.

The Company shall be solely responsible for compliance with the obligations defined in this letter. It shall not assert, in any way, that any of its automotive lubricants or related products qualifies under the ACEA Oil Sequences, unless all tests and analyses of such products carried out prove that they merit the claimed qualifications of the ACEA Oil Sequences and have been performed in strict compliance with and observance of all applicable or relevant procedures.
